MRS. ROBERT LANSING, Picture
WIFE OF NEW SECRETARY, HAS BEAUTY AND CHARM

MRS. ROBERT LANSING
BY CLINEDINST

In contrast to Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, Mrs. Robert Lansing, the wife of the new secretary of state, had wide and intimate experience of life in the great capitals of Europe, and her long residence in Europe and in Washington has familiarized her with the far-reaching effects of the social side of diplomacy and statecraft.

MECHANICAL COP SUCCESSFUL IN TRAFFIC TEST

The Automobile Club of Bridgeport has taken action regarding the installation of "silent traffic officers." Five are to be established at once in various congested traffic centers. One was tried out yesterday at Park avenue and State street, but owing to the narrow space between trolley cars, short or arms will be required. It worked successfully at the intersection of Fairfield avenue, Courtland and Cannon streets. Blue lights surmounting the structure which has a heavy metal base, a pipe standard and "four-way" arms warning automobilists to turn to the right will be maintained by the police department at night. The equipment is provided by the Bridgeport Automobile club.

HAYTI REBELLION BECOMES SERIOUS

Cape Haytian, June 29.—Rebel forces commanded by Dr. R. Bobo, who is trying to overthrow the government of President Guillaume, yesterday attacked fort Pierre Michel but without result. The gunboat, Paquette, during the day bombarded Petite Anse where the rebels had taken refuge.

NORFOLK WILL GET TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Norfolk, Conn., June 29.—Announcement was made to-day that the state tennis tournament usually held at Litchfield, will be held at the Norfolk Country Club this year, the first week in August. The matches for the Brizman cup will also take place at Norfolk that week.

SENTENCE GANGSTER WHO DEFIED POLICE

"Arrest me if you want to. The courts will probate me, anyway," Connell Gusch, aged 18, of 679 Arch street, told Policemen Jack Barton, after a mile chase last night during which Barton and Policeman William Halpin were pelted with ballast stone from the railroad viaduct in the hands of a vicious Chesapeake gangster.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Assisting Mrs. David S. Day at the serving of tea at the lawn fete which the Y. M. C. A. is giving to-day to hold at the Tea Time Tavern tomorrow afternoon and evening will be Mrs. C. Weeks; Mrs. F. M. Hawley; Mrs. John Ramsey; Mrs. Stiles Goodell; Mrs. George Buckman of Buffalo, N. Y.; Miss Annie Fish and Miss Natalie Hawley.

Tickets may be procured from Mrs. David S. Day or from any member of the committee. They will also be for sale at Library corner, Fairfield, where the buses are to await the guests and at the Tavern itself.

An orchestra will furnish the music for the afternoon and evening beginning at 3 p. m. and many young people are planning to come out for this diversion alone.

There will also be a scenic tour, details of which are being kept secret, and which will be held about Gilbert Hill.

The fete will be held rain or shine, the festivities to be held within if the weather does not permit their taking place on the lawn.

The piano pupils of Miss Bessie A. Kelly held a particularly enjoyable recital at her home, 76 Sanford avenue, last evening, which was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the participants in the interesting and well balanced program. Miss Mary V. McNamara was the assisting soloist.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served. Those who participated were the Misses Irene Meyers, Catherine Dwyer, Mary Griffin, Josephine Gamble, Marion Turbert, Lillian Murphy, Anna Kelly, Helen O'Neill, Margaret McPadden, Ruth Berker, Lillian Pratt, Dorothy Jeff, Mary Coughlin, Emily Beers, Helen Welemann, Madeline Giblin, Dorothy Hanley, Veronica Riley, Gertrude Baptist, Edna Farrell, Helen Diorio, Alice Hunt, Helen Moriarty, Pauline Miller, Eleanor DeLaney, Dorothy O'Brien, Agnes O'Malley, Dorothy and Agnes Lush and Edward DeVane.

Wuxtree, Wuxtree, Wuxtree!

A very quiet wedding took place at the home of J. P. Staneart Wednesday evening when Miss Emmet Hawk was united in marriage to Mr. Buzz Nelson. They say the bride looked charming in light blue overalls, while the groom wore dark blue. The bride has been the kind and obliging clerk in Mr. Staneart's store for about two years, while the groom is a prosperous and industrious farmer. They will go to house-keeping in the groom's home, which is already furnished.—Exchange.

Our Daily Special.

Self praise is always sincere.

Luke McLuke Says:

Somewhat or other we have always imagined that it must be hard for an undertaker to act as though he was sympathetic when he is visiting a friend who is seriously ill.

One-half of the world is doing its darndest to find out how the other half lives.

When a girl lets a fellow go to press and print a kiss, the fellow always goes out and yells "Wuxtree! Wuxtree!"

Nature didn't arrange things right in this world. Most of the lads who have a wealth of words haven't enough coin to hire a hall.

Etiquette may be great stuff, and it is all very well to put on a boiled shirt and a "We have with us this evening" suit and sit in a prime dining room. But do you remember how good the eats used to taste when you were a boy and the food was served on the eldichon of the kitchen table and you used the sleeve of your waist for a table napkin?

When a man starts in to make the surroundings of his home attractive the surroundings usually include all the boom bamars within a radius of three miles.

A pimple on a girl's nose will keep a girl from going to a dance when sickness in her family couldn't do it.

Maybe there wouldn't be so many divorces if there were fewer skilled piano pounders in the world and more skilled potato peelers and dishwashers.

If sympathy cost anything we would not be so liberal with it.

After roaming around and stizing up the average run of faces, a man often wonders how it is that so many photographers manage to make a living.

The reason why a man always blames his dyspepsia on his wife's cooking is because he will eat five assorted fox terriers, St. Bernards, pointers and curb hounds at a free lunch counter and enjoy them.

People yawn when you start to boost another man. But they are all attention when you are knocking another man.

The fact that he is wearing a hero medal doesn't do a man much good when he steps on a collar button with his bare foot.

GOT THE TRAIN STOPPED.

Two Attempts Were Dismal Failures, but the Third Won.

When the late Robert Bonner purchased Maud S. he sent her to Charter Oak park to be trained. One day a friend of Mr. Bonner left New York to visit him at the park, but found that the train did not stop at that station. The conductor was polite, but said that he could not go against orders.

At New Haven a halt was made and Mr. Bonner's friend tried to bribe the engineer with a ten dollar bill, but in vain. He was then told that Charles F. Clark, the president of the road, was on the train, and he went to him and politely requested that the stop be made.

"Why don't you see the conductor?" asked Mr. Clark.

"I have, but he will not disobey orders."

"Why not then go forward and bribe the engineer?"

"I tried bribery at New Haven, but it would not work."

The absence of evasion was the best policy. Mr. Clark not only gave orders to have the train stopped at Charter Oak, but promised some day to see Maud S. He had witnessed the attempt at bribery, and the frank confession of the offense seemed to please him.

BIG NAVAL GUNS.

Death at Times Comes From Merely Serving Them in Battle.

Modern naval engagements demonstrate that the gunners sometimes die after the battle, even when they have not been wounded or injured in any way. Death is caused by disturbance of the circulation due to the strain placed upon the nervous system by the excitement and the tremendous vibrations of modern guns.

Curiously enough, this collapse is quite as likely to affect the most robust members of the gun crew as the ones with poorer physiques and bears no relation to the individual's courage. It is due to a lack of sufficient reserve power of the heart, which is dependent upon the quality of the heart muscles, and there is no known means of estimating this inherent quality.

It is possible, of course, to determine the force and strength of the heart in an individual, but only some test, such as that of actual battle, will determine the quality of the heart muscles.

Thus the veteran gunner who has proved his heart quality in actual battle has become a peculiarly valuable factor in modern naval warfare.—Los Angeles Times.

Why Teeth Chatter.

Although the muscles which affect the action of the jaws are especially under the control of the brain, the chattering of the teeth is really a spasm caused by chill or fear, and all spasms act independent of the will.

The muscles which operate the jaw act in a series of involuntary little contractions which pull the jaw up and permit it to fall of its own weight.

This action is quick, and the chattering occurs from frequent repetition. The cold has a similar effect upon the jaw muscles to that which some poisons have in causing spasmodic action in other parts of the body.

A Hard Task.

"Miss Mary certainly has the male contingent at her feet. But she is rather a capricious belle, isn't she?"

"Yes; a bell who is going to be very hard to ring."—Baltimore American.

TO ALL MOTHERS.

Dear Mrs.:

Have you ever thought what a nice thing it would for your little daughter, when she becomes a young lady, to possess a genuine pearl necklace? Every Mother cherishes the idea that some day her daughter may possess a pearl necklace as no article of adornment will add more to her pleasure.

The "Add-a-Pearl Necklace" a new idea in assembling genuine pearls makes this very thing possible without the usual outlay of hundreds of dollars. By purchasing the "Add-a-Pearl" of any amount you desire to invest, and on occasions thereafter when gifts of any denomination would be acceptable, add a number of pearls to the necklace, you will be able to complete the necklace within a few years, and in the meantime, your daughter will also have the pleasure of wearing same.

Will be pleased to have you call and let us explain the "Add-a-Pearl Necklace."

Not Many Store-Sales Are Uninfluenced by Store-Advertising!

The store-sales to-day that are uninfluenced, directly or indirectly, by store-Advertising will not have amounted to ten per cent. of the total business of the day. By the direct influence of advertising is meant the sales of articles specifically advertised. By the indirect influence of advertising is meant the articles sold that are not specifically advertised, but are displayed to the customers who are drawn to the store BY THE ADVERTISED ARTICLES. In the latter case, as surely as in the first, the advertising must be credited with the sale.

Observant merchants know that this is true. They should gain courage from the knowledge to strengthen their advertising campaigns to the point of matching their store-hopes and plans.

U. S. OFFICIALS TALK OF LABOR CONDITIONS.

Detroit, June 29.—"Industrial Conditions in New England," and "Labor Conditions in the South," were among the subjects up for discussion today at the convention here of the Association of Governmental Labor Officials of the United States and Canada. John S. B. Davis, labor commissioner of New Hampshire, told of the growth of industries in his territory and M. L. Shipman, labor commissioner of North Carolina, discussed the labor situation in southern states.

In the course of his address Mr. Davis compared the average working hours in the textile manufacturing business in former years with the present system. Prior to 1851 in one of the largest factories, the following schedule prevailed, he said: From November 1 to 20, first shift at 4:30 a. m., work to begin before breakfast; September 20 to March 20, work continued until 7:30 p. m.; May to September, until 7 p. m.; and September 1 to 20, until dark. There were four holidays, Fast Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas.

WEATHER FORECAST

New Haven, June 29.—Forecast: Fair, followed by thunder showers late tonight or Wednesday.

Connecticut: Fair tonight and Wednesday probably showers; moderate west to south winds.

The western disturbance is central this morning over Illinois. It has caused showers during the last 24 hours from Kansas eastward to Ohio and from the upper Mississippi valley southward to the Gulf. It will probably pass out the St. Lawrence valley on Wednesday. The temperatures are rising slowly in the eastern districts.
